Royal University for Women (RUW) is the first private, purpose-built, international university in the Kingdom of Bahrain dedicated solely to educating women. RUW provides a comfortable environment in which to create leaders, develop vibrant personalities, and dynamic community-conscious individuals. Our main focus is on academic excellence and personal development. RUW's initial degree programmes were designed in collaboration with two reputed universities, McGill University in Canada and Middlesex University in the United Kingdom.

VISION

To be recognised regionally as a key contributor to the provision of a quality educational experience, centred around the advancement of women.

MISSION

To create the next generations of female leaders, locally and globally through research informed, stakeholder engaged, quality education.

RUW History

The first meeting of the Educational Projects Company (EPC) to establish the Royal University for Women (RUW) Founding Committee took place in February 2002. According to letter No. 19/ 1/ issued by the Royal Court dated on 09 July 2002, and Ministerial Order No. 1462002/, dated 16 July 2002 issued by the Ministry of Education; a special university for women was licensed for operation. In letter No. 3042002/ dated 02 November 2002 issued by the Ministry of Education, the name 'Royal University for Women' was confirmed. RUW opened enrolment in a temporary venue in October 2005. In August 2006, the RUW permanent campus in Riffa was opened.

RUW Campus

RUW offers its students the opportunity to acquire internationally recognised credentials as well as to enable its students to develop the personal skills and confidence necessary to excel in every area of their personal and professional life. Located in the Kingdom of Bahrain RUW's extensive campus facilities offer an environment where the best of Western and Middle Eastern values are reflected. RUW's custom-built campus houses studios, lecture halls and information technology labs, to optimise the learning experience. In addition to its educational facilities, the Student Centre facility includes a variety of dining options as well as a 'Mini Market'. Student Council offices as well as the Clinic are located in the Student Centre. The dedicated Sports Centre includes a swimming pool, fully equipped Gym as well as saunas and shower facilities.

Message from the Chairman of the Board of Trustees and Board of Directors

Dear Graduates,

On behalf of Royal University for Women (RUW) Board of Trustees and Board of Directors, congratulations to the undergraduate and postgraduate graduating class of 2024. Today, we celebrate your hard work dedication and perseverance and each one of you should be proud of this accomplishment on reaching this remarkable milestone. Thank you for choosing RUW for your academic journey and a special thank you to your parents and families who are celebrating with you. During your time at RUW, our faculty and staff have dedicated themselves to nurturing the potential in each one of you so also take this moment to thank them for their ongoing support and encouragement.

As the 16th batch of RUW Graduates, it is good for you to reflect on RUW's many achievements, including the honour of being the First private university in the Kingdom of Bahrain to receive HEC National Accreditation. RUW is also the first private university in the Kingdom of Bahrain to be listed on the Bahrain National Qualifications Framework register. RUW received ASIC Accreditation and was listed as "Premier University" that signifies that RUW meets premier standards in academic quality, student support and institutional management. RUW also maintains re certification of the ISO 9001:2015 for Quality Management Systems.

Graduation is more than a culmination of study, it is the beginning of the next chapter of your lives and you can continue to avail of the many programmes offered here at RUW. The Board Trustees and Board of Directors encourage you to carry with you the values and knowledge you have gained and remember that learning is a lifelong journey and your education is the foundation upon which you will build your future. As you embark on this new journey, we urge you to stay connected with RUW, you are our ambassadors and your experiences and achievements will inspire future generations.

Finally, my sincere appreciation to my colleagues in the RUW Board of Trustee and Board of Directors for their continuous and ongoing support and commitment of the University's Vision and Mission by providing strategic direction and valuable resources for the advancement of education. Gratitude is also extended to the academic and administrative colleagues for their commitment to the growth and future enhancement of this leading institution.

Mr. Fahad Al Zamil
Chairman of the Board of Trustees and Board of Directors

President's Message

Dear Graduates,

As the President of Royal University for Women (RUW), I extend my heartfelt congratulations to the class of 2024. You are certainly at an auspicious and exciting new chapter of your lives. As you embark on your journey, I encourage you to take full advantage of all the opportunities available to you and benefit from your degree that has strengthened your choices. I have had the pleasure of getting to know you, albeit briefly and recognise your talent, dedication and motivation.

Our graduating class this year is especially remarkable, representing nationalities from nine different countries.This diversity is a testament to the global community we are building, offering high quality education and a strong reputation in the region. Always remember that you are part of RUW family alumnae and we will continue to support you in your endeavours.

Here at RUW, we aim to work together to educate our students to be explorers of knowledge, creativity, innovation and entrepreneurship and to provide them with ample prospects both in academics and other co-curricular activities, to explore their talents. Continue to enjoy learning within and beyond the world of academia and draw on your experiences during challenging times. Our postgraduate programmes bridge the links with business and industry and our commitment to excellence in teaching and research is coupled with our strong sense of community. RUW's programmes provide further opportunities for women to excel in areas advancing your academic excellence.

Congratulations once again and as your President, I am here to support you in your academic pursuits and my door is always open. I welcome your feedback and ideas as we work together to ensure that where women excel, the future thrives.

Message from the Academic Vice President

Class of 2024, Congratulations! It is with immense pride and honour that I extend my heartfelt greetings to each one of you on this significant occasion. Today, we come together to celebrate your outstanding achievements and the remarkable journey you have undertaken at the Royal University for Women (RUW) to reach this milestone.

Your graduation from the College of Art and Design, College of Business and Law, and College of Engineering and Technology is a testament to your dedication, resilience, and unwavering commitment, supported by your family, friends, faculty, and staff who have enabled you to thrive and succeed. We recognize the challenges you have faced, including the global pandemic, and commend your ability to adapt and overcome.

Reflecting on your academic journey, from your first day on campus to the rigorous academic challenges and enriching experiences in the liberal arts courses offered by the Centre for General Studies, you have developed critical thinking, creativity, and a deeper understanding of the world. Research projects, internships, and community service have shaped your contributions to society. Your pursuit of academic excellence and values such as integrity and perseverance have driven your success. The sense of community and collaboration you fostered will guide your future endeavours.

As you embark on the next phase, embrace lifelong learning and continuous improvement. Your RUW experience equips you to navigate challenges and seize opportunities, confident in your potential to make a positive impact.

Congratulations again, Class of 2024! Carry forward your experiences, knowledge, and values into the future. Stay connected as alumni, uphold integrity and excellence, and continue inspiring with your resilience and determination. Best wishes for your bright and successful future!

Professor Jean Pierre El Asmar
Academic Vice President

COLLEGE OF ART & DESIGN

PROFILE

The College of Art and Design aims to become a model centre of Art and Design in the region providing quality education to students at various levels. The college aims to give thrust to research based on the needs of the community and building partnerships with relevant community groups. In line with the vision of RUW the graduates of the College of Art & Design will be creative, confident and forward thinking. The programmes and practices are designed to meet international standards and to prepare the graduates to become leaders who are engaged members of society, demonstrating initiative and life-long habits of learning and individual development. The College is offering programmes both at undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

In the BA programme the students who major in Fashion Design are prepared for careers in the fashion industry. The students can join the industry at various levels like as designers, merchandisers etc. and as entrepreneurs.

The students who major in Interior Design take a number of specialised courses and gain knowledge about solving different problems in Interior Design.

The students who major in Graphic Design participate in both formal and informal critiques, where they discuss their design problems. In design the student combine their culture and traditions along with the latest software to create a unique design.

The Master's Programmes were launched in academic year 2012 -13. The two Master's Programmes are giving students in the region an opportunity to pursue quality higher education in Kingdom of Bahrain. The main goals of the Master of Design Management are to meet the demand of skills in design in various businesses; Develop skills in entrepreneurship, innovation and providing design solutions in the field of Fashion, Interior and Graphic Design.

Master of Fine Art in Drawing & Painting emphasises on the development of originality, clarity, and studio discipline to prepare students for professional careers. By focusing on independent studio work, students are encouraged, with college assistance, to discover their individual forms of expression. The programme involves investigation into contemporary issues challenging students to find those critical ideas that will form their creative output. Diverse styles and attitudes are encouraged as well as both traditional and experimental methods of creating a body of work.

Dean's Message

Dear Graduates of Classes 2023 and 2024,

It is my great pleasure to extend my warmest congratulations to you on behalf of the College of Art and Design (CAD) at the Royal University for Women (RUW). Your hard work and dedication have paid off, and it is with great pride that we celebrate your success today.

Completing four years of study at CAD is no small feat, and you should be proud of your accomplishments. Your commitment to your education, especially during these challenging times, has been truly remarkable, and we are confident that you are well-prepared to take on whatever challenges come your way.

As you move on to the next phase of your lives, whether it be in academia or professional design, we trust that you will continue to promote the values fostered by RUW and serve as ambassadors for the College of Art and Design. We have no doubt that you will make a positive impact in the world with the skills and knowledge you have gained during your time at CAD.

Once again, congratulations on your graduation, and we wish you all the best in your future endeavors.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND LAW

PROFILE

The College of Business and Law (CBL) has two distinct departments, the Business department, and the Law department.The primary objective of the Business department is to prepare students for professional and managerial careers in organizations that includes developing a capacity for critical thinking and problem solving. Moreover, students learn to integrate knowledge across different disciplines, and contemporary theory in approaching practical business problems.

The Business Department offers four bachelor's degree programmes, in Human Resources, Banking & Finance, Marketing and International Business and a master's programme in Business Administration. The bachelor's in business provides a well-rounded professional education that consists of university general requirement courses, liberal arts required courses, a business core, and a year of courses emphasizing the student's major.

The Law department plays an integral role in the achievement of RUW's main mission of excellence, providing scientific knowledge and offering a teaching methodology that brings harmonybetween Middle Eastern legal traditions and the main international legal trends. The Law programme provides teaching that is globallyoriented, addresses the needs of the market, and leads to local, regional and international careers. CBL's law programme is the only programme in the Kingdom which is bilingual with content being delivered 60% in English and 40% in Arabic.

Law studies open many paths for the students: their studies can take them to domestic law-related professions such as lawyers,judges, public notaries, legal consultants, or employees in the public administration. The international field is also an option to choose to become diplomats, international lawyers, or judges, or to work in international organizations. CBL's Bachelor of Law enhances the intellectual capacity of the students by encouraging critical thinking through a teaching methodology based on research and practical exercises, in order to better understand how to relate the legal theories to the practice.

As part of the learning process, CBL encourages students' participation in the developmentof community life as part of their personal development, based on the values of academic excellence and positive cooperation with local and international partners. Internships are, hence, an essential part of the curriculum in orderto allow studentsto develop employability and advocacy skills. This also happens through the participation in local, regional and international competitions such as Trade Quest, Injaz and Willem C. Vis International Moot Court Competitions.

Dr. Raed Alnimer

Dean's Message

Dear Graduates,

On behalf of the entire College of Business and Law (CBL) congratulations on your graduation and it was an honour to have you as part of our esteemed institution. As the Dean of CBL, I take pride in the excellence of our business and law education and the opportunities we provide to shape successful careers.

At CBL, we are not just a college but a community that encourages entrepreneurship and innovation. CBL students have participated for many years in the Trade Quest Competition, organised annually by Bahrain Bourse, law students participate in the most prestigious competition, The Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot, and were very successful in the SSCA Arabic Moot AY 2023 -2024. Throughout the past years, our students have always secured coveted spots on the podium.

Our college's strong industry linkages ensure rich learning experiences and provide further opportunities for experiential learning. CBL has a Memoranda of Understanding with banks, companies, ministries, NGOs and international organisations of eminence that will help students find quality internship opportunities and provide them with real-life experience on the job. We collaborate closely with other higher education institutions internationally. Among our partners, we count West Virginia University, USA, La Rochelle Business School, France, and Liverpool University College of Law. CBL offers study-abroad opportunities and international education trips that will expose our students to unique international experiences and support their learning in a truly global context.

CBL remains committed to its objective to further the cause of women's empowerment and advancement through education. If you are interested to further your excellent business education in an exemplary learning environment, you have found it through our MBA and for law, through our LLM.
Remain in contact with CBL and follow us on Instagram and come visit us in person and avail of our Masters programmes. The faculty are always happy to welcome you back.

Today, is a day of celebration for you and your family.

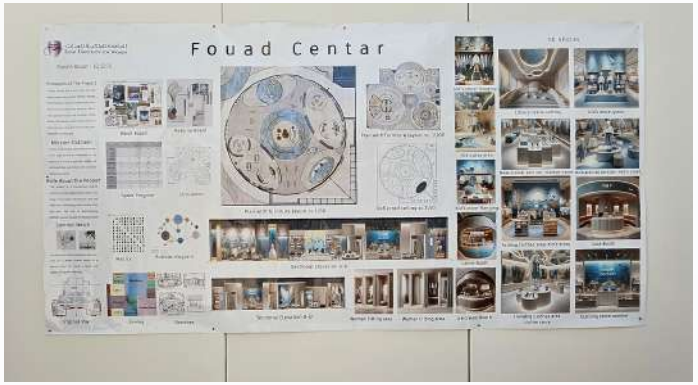
COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING AND TECHNOLOGY

PROFILE

The College of Engineering and Technology (CET) at the Royal University for Women (RUW) offers two undergraduate programs: Bachelor of Science in Architecture and Bachelor of Science in Digital Media and Interactive Technology. Committed to providing a comprehensive learning experience, CET emphasizes critical thinking, creativity, and collaboration while upholding ethical practices. The faculty are experts in their fields and hold PhDs from reputable international universities, actively engaging in research. With state-of-the-art facilities and a well-equipped library that incorporates the latest resources and technologies, the college ensures a conducive environment for learning



CET is dedicated to continuously updating its curricula to align with local, regional, and international trends, with a focus on seeking regional and international accreditation. The college's mission is centered on empowering women to excel in the fields of engineering and technology through the delivery of high-quality education, fostering innovation, and promoting sustainability for a better future. As a college, CET aspires to lead in women's engineering and technology education, contributing to research, producing influential graduates, and driving advancements in technology and sustainability for a brighter tomorrow.

Prof. Jean Pierre El Asmar

Dean’s Message

Dear Graduates of the College of Engineering and Technology,

As the acting Dean of the College of Engineering and Technology (CET) at Royal University for Women (RUW), I am honoured to acknowledge the remarkable achievements of the graduating class of 2023-24. Throughout your academic journey spanning the past five to six years, you've displayed exceptional dedication, perseverance, and adaptability amidst unprecedented challenges.

From navigating the enduring impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic to addressing the accelerated rise of AI and the imperative for sustainability in combating climate change, you've demonstrated remarkable resilience in confronting these multifaceted challenges.
As you embark on your professional careers, I urge you to embrace the opportunities ahead with courage and conviction. Though the path may be burdened with uncertainties, it is through embracing these uncertainties that you'll uncover your true potential. Like pioneers forging new paths in uncharted territories, dare to explore diverse career avenues, unafraid to take calculated risks along the way.

Maya Lin once said, "As an architect, you design for the present, with an awareness of the past, for a future which is essentially unknown." This quote encapsulates the importance of innovation, forward-thinking, and a deep understanding of shaping the future.
I extend my deepest gratitude to each of you for your invaluable contributions to the RUW community. To the faculty, staff, and administrators of the CET, I express heartfelt appreciation for their unwavering support and dedication in nurturing your academic and personal growth.

As you embark on this new chapter, remember the words of Lao Tzu, "The journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step." Embrace each challenge as an opportunity for growth, and may you continue to strive for excellence in all your future endeavours.

Congratulations, Class of 2023-24! May success and fulfilment accompany you on your path forward.

CENTRE FOR GENERAL STUDIES

PROFILE

The Centre for General Studies (CGS) offers both English for Academic Success (EAS) programme and Liberal Arts Requirement (LAR) courses. CGS is also offering professional certificates and soft skills programmes through our unique partnership with Pearson Education UK.

English for Academic Success (EAS) Programme

The English for Academic Success (EAS) Programme is a preparatory one-year programme, which is assured by Pearson and systematically develops the skills, knowledge and attributes necessary for academic and personal success in subsequent undergraduate degree programmes at the University. EAS courses are designed to enhance the language proficiency of students who don't meet the minimum linguistic proficiency level required to pursue their academic studies.

Liberal Arts Requirement (LAR) Courses

Liberal Arts Requirement (LAR) Courses are elective courses offered to all RUW students as part of their university studies. LAR courses do not emphasise any specific specialisation but develop the students' rational thought and intellectual capacities in general. Such courses pertain to general knowledge and life skills. The LAR courses at RUW are categorised into two groups: knowledge-based courses and skills-based courses.

Professional Certificates

CGS offers the following Pearson Assured Certificates as part of the Liberal Arts Requirement (LAR) Courses:

- Pearson Professional Certificate in Information Technology
- Pearson Professional Certificate in Leadership
- Pearson Professional Certificate in Entrepreneurship and Innovation
- Pearson Assured Certificate in Effective Communication
- Pearson Assured Certificate in Research Skills

Micro-credential Programmes "Digital Badges"

CGS recognises the great importance of preparing students for employability and for the 21st Century Skills in line with the HEC strategy for the Theme "Skills for Future". CGS offers "Micro-credential" programmes and issues "Digital Badges" to students. The badges offered are the Soft Skills Digital Badge and the Career Preparation Digital Badge.

Continuing Education Courses

CGS meets lifelong learning needs and aspirations of adult and young adult learners by offering high quality, recognised education programmes. The programmes offered are in line with the market and industry needs in the region and contribute to work-readiness and/or on the job training.

Dr. Humam Elagha

Director’s Message

Welcome to the Centre for General Studies (CGS). At Royal University for Women, we recognise the great importance of preparing our students for employability and the serious task of meeting the national agenda. Our mission is to guide our students in becoming independent and empowered life-long learners who are ready to effectively contribute towards building society. In our Centre, we strive to give our students the knowledge, skills, and strategies to think critically and keep evolving through constant learning — in the classroom and beyond.

CGS prepares students to achieve academic excellence through expanding knowledge and potentials, developing their study skills, linguistic skills, and critical thinking skills, and promoting their self-confidence and independent learning abilities. Our students are immersed in a warm environment of a collaborative educational community solely dedicated to the pursuit and production of knowledge. We enhance their linguistic and communication skills in both Arabic and English, promote their global citizenship, and raise their awareness of human rights. We also help in shaping a well-rounded character and ensure a capability to voice and defend opinions by being exposed to a wide variety of liberal arts courses. In the English for Academic Success programme, we optimise the students learning experience by utilising authentic and appealing materials which cater to individuality and assure motivation, engagement, and autonomy.

In effort to enrich our programmes in RUW’s further growth towards a leading higher education institution which serves the region’s public and private sectors, we are continuously exploring how to expand our courses and extra-curricular activities. Moreover, CGS now proudly offers Pearson Professional Certificates and Pearson Soft Skills programmes. CGS is also contributing to the establishment of a stronger research capacity and culture and is developing strategic plans to support research training workshops, contribute to research resources, and host research plans and projects to bring RUW’s potential into fruition.

Class of 2024

Aysha Alkooheji

My university experience was incredibly valuable and fulfilling. During my time at RUW, I had the privilege of meeting exceptional friends and professors who imparted both life wisdom and academic knowledge. Being part of the university community provided me with personal growth opportunities and experiences that I would not have encountered elsewhere. I am genuinely grateful for being a part of this journey.

Deema Alolyyan

Cheers to the grand (and sometimes sleep-deprived) adventure!

These halls hold memories we'll forever cherish. Here, I discovered my dream, and with the knowledge, resilience, and amazing friends by my side, I'll chase it with all my heart. We may not have all the answers, but we've gained the tools to find them. Here's to bright futures and chasing our dreams. May our journeys be bright and our impact lasting.

Hessa alDoseri

وَآخِرُ دَعْوَاهُمْ أَنِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِين

Thank God that after four years of hard work and perseverance, today I am reaping the fruits of my efforts. The years passed quickly, and it was difficult to say goodbye to the Royal University for Women. I'm honoured to be a part of this exceptional university, and I appreciate everyone who made my university experience memorable.

I am grateful to my family for their constant support, my amazing professors, and my friends for helping me get through the thick and thin of this journey. It wasn't easy to be on the Dean's List four years in a row, but God helped me through. I am grateful for the invaluable knowledge and experiences my university has given me, and I can't wait to share my learnings with the world out there and start the new chapter of my life.

Ghada Alrowaiei

How difficult it was to choose between universities to study, but after these four years at the Royal University for Women, I truly know that my decision was correct in choosing RUW. During my studies at RUW, I learned many things that helped me to develop, grow, discover my passion, and develop my skills. Today, I am not the same person as I was four years ago. Today I am ready to face the challenges of the future, and realize my dreams through the opportunities, knowledge, and experience that were given to me by the university. I am proud to be part of this university, which made me the person I am today. I am grateful to the professors, and their support during this journey at the university.

Hessa Ali Alkhalifa

The speed at which these four years have passed is almost unbelievable. I don't think I would have been the person I am if it were not for RUW. In addition to teaching me a great deal about banking and finance, RUW has also taught me a lot about life and created many unforgettable memories. My journey is characterized by confidence, knowledge, and diligence. My family, mentors , and friend's support has repeatedly reminded me of my abilities through hard work and a desire to never stop learning and imagine beyond the unthinkable. I am looking forward to success in my career and in all aspects of my life. RUW, you will be missed.

Jalela Adel Alsetri

My journey towards earning a bachelor's degree in law was filled with challenges, but the Royal University for Women served as a guiding light that helped me succeed. The university not only equipped me with the knowledge and skills needed to excel academically but also opened doors for career advancement in the law field. None of this would have been possible without the unwavering support of my parents, the encouragement from my sisters and brother, and constant support from friends and my best friend. As I look forward to the next chapter in my career, I am grateful for the foundation and opportunities provided by the doctors and the university.

Khadija Al-Hajri

I am immensely grateful for the unwavering support of my mom & dad & Dr. Raed Al-Nimer, who has played the roles of a second father, mentor, and steadfast supporter throughout academic journey. I extend my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Naser Al-Saraireh and all the dedicated doctors who have significantly contributed to my academic career.

I dove into my passion for LAW and had a blast. I joined some awesome Competition and organizations like SCCA Int. Arabic moot in Riyadh & The 9th Arab Moot Court Competition 2023 in Kuwait where I made lifelong friends and had amazing experiences. One of my proudest moments was I was honored by the Former Italian Ambassador to the Kingdom of Bahrain, when I passed the Italian language and obtained a scholarship in Italy . unforgettable memories . I want to give a huge shoutout to my friends , & family who made this journey even more special.

I've had a life-changing experience as a student at RUW, one that has significantly influenced my learning and personal development. With its supportive academic environment and the different points of view that my instructors and peers offer, RUW has given me the tools I need to broaden my views, confront my assumptions, and develop a more detailed awareness of the world. Through interesting courses, purposeful extracurriculars, and invaluable mentoring, I've grown both academically and personally, learning about my interests, strengths, and goals. I had a wonderful time and experience being a member of the RUW Student Council. Not only did I have a lovely time on the campus and in class, but I also had a unique experience in the dorms, giving me the full university experience, teaching me self-reliance and having fun with my dorm mates.

After completing four years in my university journey, i realized that time is capable of personal change and self-development through insistence on achieving success and excellence. They were years full of successes and achievements, and all of this was thanks to god and then from the banking and finance faculty members. Very grateful for having the opportunity to study at the royal university for women’s. I am so proud of myself to have reached the moment of graduation with first-class honors. My words cannot express how happy and proud i am, as there are no words to express my feelings. I would like to send my sincere thanks to my family, friends, and faculty members of banking and finance and the university for extending all forms of support to me.

My university journey was a transformative experience. RUW shaped my intellect, personality, and social growth. My university journey was unforgettable, enriching, and laid the foundation for my future success. I am grateful for my family's support and the care of the professors who have played a significant role in my university journey. Thank you all for being there for me.

Nora Al Dhubaib

I am a marketing student at RUW my university experience has been a transformative journey, shaping me into the person I am today. I've grown academically, intellectually, and personally through diverse courses, engaging discussions, and invaluable interactions with professors. Beyond academia, I've embraced campus life, participating in events, fostering lifelong friendships, and developing crucial skills like leadership and teamwork. As graduation approaches, I feel a sense of pride in my accomplishments, nostalgia for cherished moments, and excitement for the future. I'm grateful for the education I received, which has equipped me with the tools to pursue my dreams and make a positive impact. My university experience has been a defining chapter in my life, filled with growth, learning, and unforgettable memories.

Nujood Yaqoobi

By approaching the end of my journey at RUW, I reflect on the personal growth and learning experiences I've gained. University life has been a transformative period, pushing me to learn and grow.

The academic challenges pushed me to think critically and develop skills that I never knew I had. From long nights spent studying to engaging in thought-provoking discussions with professors and peers, every experience has contributed to my intellectual growth. Courses that I initially found challenging eventually became opportunities for exploration and creativity, allowing me to improve my problem-solving abilities and analytical thinking.

Outside the classroom, my attendance to RUW events have expanded my social circle. These events also enhanced my leadership and communication skills.

I am grateful for the relationships I built and the knowledge I acquired. As I move forward, I know that my university experience has equipped me with a solid foundation for future success.

What an adventure! My four years at RUW College of Law have been a blessing, and I consider myself fortunate to have graduated with a degree in law from a prestigious institution that has shaped and transformed me in so many ways. I still remember who I was before I started, and I am nothing comparable to it now!

Participating in several campus activities and serving as the College of Law Representative was beneficial to me in numerous ways. I've created a new family for myself out of friends colleagues and professors thanks to RUW!

I am grateful to all my instructor's family and friends who have supported me along the way! I would especially like to express my gratitude to Dr. Raed and Ms. Sumera for their amazing help throughout the way. I will miss RUW and our strong university community, which is unique among institutions.

Dear Faculty Members and Colleagues at RUW,Your unwavering belief propelled me forward, even in moments of doubt. I'm deeply grateful for your support.

As a RUW Student Ambassador, CEO of RUW's Student Company participating in the INJAZ Bahrain Company Program, and President of the RUW CSR Club and intern at prestigious organizations, I've experienced profound personal growth. Representing our university in Bahrain, advocating for peers, and leading impactful initiatives have sharpened my leadership and teamwork skills.

"Both Internships at Bank ABC and Al Salam Bank provided hands-on experience in the field of business, reinforcing classroom knowledge. These opportunities, facilitated by the university, have shaped me into a driven and compassionate individual."

As I graduate with a Bachelor's degree in International Business, I carry with me the lessons learned and memories cherished. Thank you for being an integral part of my journey.

Rayan Alsenan

As I reflect upon my journey as a student at RUW, I am filled with gratitude for the transformative experiences and profound personal growth that this institution has brought into my life. Being a student at RUW has truly been a remarkable chapter in my educational journey, shaping me into the person I am today. One aspect of RUW that has significantly contributed to my learning experience is its emphasis on experiential learning. The university has provided numerous opportunities for practical application of theoretical knowledge, enabling me to bridge the gap between academia and the real world. Engaging in internships, research projects, and community service initiatives has allowed me to apply classroom concepts to real-life situations, fostering a deeper understanding of the subject matter and enhancing my professional skills. These hands-on experiences have not only boosted my confidence but have also ignited a passion for lifelong learning and personal development.

My journey in RUW comes to an end. It is an end that I consider bittersweet as i leave behind a second family that I created. RUW has added so much to my life and allowed me to grow both academically and personally, I would not have been able to get through those years without the people in my life. Moreover, as a banking & finance graduate from RUW, I'm confident that the academic values I take away from here will allow me to excel anywhere I go.

However, the lessons I learned, and best experience had been what i take away from RUW to the next chapter of my life.

My journey as a student at Royal University for Women has been a heartfelt experience. Being a student here has given me wonderful friends, who I now call family. I know one day I will look back to these wonderful days and cherish the years spent here, being driven by the thirst of knowledge and experiencing more. This university has given me many different opportunities to self-growth and a chance for me to expand as an individual. Royal University, you will be missed and I will be leaving behind my life's most beautiful and cherished memories within this campus.

Sema Almashiek

It feels like leaving a home to live in another.

At the moment of filling out the application form for students expected to graduate, which appears to be just a piece of paper, but in reality it is an effort that took years of my life and health, I recalled all the things I had learned, the skills I had acquired, many of the legal memorandums I had drafted, and the oral arguments I had delivered before senior international judges and arbitrators. This moment had it falls and rises, missteps, successes, even stories and tales, Including the studying abroad trip and the commercial arbitration competition trip, at which time I argued on behalf of the plaintiff and the defendant at the same time, and in the following year I had the privilege of supervising the university team, in a wonderful experience that touched my heart and made me proud of each of them. After four great years, which was like an integrated life experience, I return to my family, carrying the same self that I found in the Kingdom of Bahrain, carrying many beautiful memories, gaining many great friends and many successes.

Thank you from the heart to the faculty of the department of Law; we were taught to achieve what we've achieve!

Salma Shaikho

I am Salma Shaikho, an architecture student at RUW since 2019. During my time here, I have actively engaged in activities that have contributed to my personal growth and development.

As CEO of the INJAZ Bahrain Student Company, my team and I achieved remarkable success, winning first place at the INJAZ iCamp. I also served as the President of the RUW AIESEC Club and Treasurer of the MUN Club, enhancing my organizational and teamwork skills. I was the Student Council President, further developing my leadership abilities.

Thanks to RUW, I participated in programs such as AIAS, AIESEC, Fablab, Global Shapers, Media Awards, Radio Bahrain, and Bahrain TV. I represented Bahrain in Toastmasters International contests, winning over 12 trophies and being a finalist in the Hope Find Bidaya program.

Balancing commitments taught me valuable time management and organizational skills, while maintaining high distinction in academics.

RUW's focus on excellence, diverse community, and growth opportunities shaped me into a well-rounded individual. I am grateful for the lessons, connections, and personal growth at RUW.

Sara Alosaimi

My time as a student at RUW has been a life-changing experience that has had a significant impact on my studies and personal development. The demanding academic setting and the supportive advice of committed faculty members have pushed me to reach new heights and exceed expectations. I am incredibly grateful for the life-changing experience I experienced at RUW as I approach graduation. Through the experiences, information, and friendships I've gained, I've become a more self-assured and well-rounded person, ready to face the next phase of my life with passion and resolve. I will always have a particular place in my heart for RUW since it is the place that has fostered my personal development and given me the resources I need to succeed in the future.

Fatema Mohamed Almehza

RUW will always hold a special place in my heart, and the past four years will be remembered with a genuine smile. As I leave today, I hold onto the hope of returning back as a professor one day, standing alongside my law professors whom I will always be grateful for. Looking back, a younger Fatema could not have imagined the incredible memories she would create. All the ups and downs, lessons, and laughter. From preferring oral exams to pleading before judges and arbitrators, winning all the awards of the SCCA International Arabic Moot, coaching students, and receiving the Leadership Award. Every step around the campus truly felt like home. Undoubtedly, these memories will always push me to grow, as I will make sure to make the Royal University for Women glow!

“You will face many challenges and learn many lessons just to realize that the reward wasn’t the destination but actually the journey. Enjoy it to very end.”

Haneen Haddad

"Wow, I never imagined this day would come—I'm officially a graduate in a field many doubted! First, I must express my deepest gratitude to my parents and all those who never doubted my abilities, helping me reach this incredible milestone where I am truly my own boss, tackling challenges on my own terms. A special shoutout goes to Royal University for Women (RUW), which played a crucial part in my journey. Studying at RUW transformed me; its nurturing environment and strong community spirit motivated me to embrace challenges and pursue leadership roles that once seemed unreachable. The focus on female empowerment inspired me, showing me the power of stepping out of my comfort zone. Thanks to RUW, I've grown not just academically but personally, becoming a resilient and visionary leader ready to make my mark in the world."

Maryam Al-Mulani

It's unbelievable that my 4 years' experience at RUW is coming to an end. I'm grateful for the ups and downs during this journey. I genuinely treasure and cherish every moment I've spent in RUW. Thankful for the constant support I have received from my family and RUW faculty members during this time, wouldn't have been possible without you all.

Zainab Ali

As I stand here on the verge of graduating, I am filled with a range of emotions. These past few years have been an incredible journey of personal growth, self-awareness, and transformation. Being part of the vibrant RUW community has both challenged and nurtured me. I seized every opportunity to expand my horizons, step outside my comfort zone, and embrace new experiences. The lessons I learned, both inside and outside the classroom, have shaped the person I am today. Serving as the Vice President of the Student Council, a club president, and a community volunteer has been a humbling experience. To my incredible professors, I extend my heartfelt gratitude for the encouragement, and unwavering support throughout my journey. Your belief in me has inspired me to pursue my dreams fearlessly. I am eternally grateful for the transformative years spent here, and I eagerly embrace the boundless opportunities that lie ahead.
