Welcome note from the Academic Vice President
Professor Jean-Pierre El Asmar

Dear students,

On behalf of all my colleagues, it is with great pleasure that I welcome both new and returning students to the Royal University for Women (RUW)! As we embark on a new academic year, we find ourselves in the midst of a transformational shift in the way we work and interact with technology, spurred by the challenges and opportunities presented by the global pandemic. We must adapt to the rapid advancement of Artificial Intelligence (AI), which has profoundly impacted various aspects of our lives, including the way we pursue our academic goals. With more facilities and opportunities available to us than ever before, we must also take on an increased responsibility to ensure we make the most of them.

To ensure your academic journey at RUW is a smooth one, it is essential to use the Student Handbook as a valuable resource. This comprehensive guide contains academic and administrative policies and regulations that are crucial to your success, such as the Student Code of Conduct, Office of Student Life regulations, Library and Residence policies. Please note that you are bound by these rules upon enrollment, and I strongly encourage you to carefully read the Handbook to ensure you understand the guidelines that govern your academic and personal life at RUW.

Effective communication is an indispensable aspect of academic success, and as students, you will communicate with various stakeholders within the university, including instructors, academic advisors, Heads of Department (HOD), and Deans. To ensure timely and appropriate responses, it is crucial to utilize the proper hierarchical channels for communication. Keeping up with regular communication with your academic advisor and the Office of the Registrar is essential to staying on track with your study plans and ensuring timely graduation. The Office of Student Life is also a critical component of your academic journey, and it is essential to communicate with them for support and assistance with various aspects of student life. Finally, using your personal university email for communication is vital to ensure efficient and effective communication with the university and your professors.

We are thrilled to have you join our vibrant community of students, and we are committed to supporting you in your academic and personal endeavors. Whether you are new or returning, we encourage you to take advantage of the many opportunities available at RUW and embrace the challenges of academic life with an open and curious mind.

Welcome once again to RUW, and we wish you all the best for a successful and fulfilling academic year ahead!

Welcome Note from the Registrar

Mr. Sami Mohd Mahd Dagash, MSc

Registrar

Greetings!

Whether you are a new student, a transfer, or a returning student, I would like to take this opportunity to extend a warm welcome to the Royal University for Women and to the 2023–24 academic year! Congratulations on making a very positive choice to pursue higher education at the Royal University for Women. The place that places a strong emphasis on quality teaching and learning and is committed to preparing the next generation of professional women's leaders to work with skills, competence, and excellence. RUW implements the principles of student-centered learning while building students' skills and improving their critical thinking, communication, and leadership skills.

The admissions and registration department serves as one of the most important units at RUW, facilitating and supporting learning and teaching on our campus. We are in charge of the recruitment of new students, ensuring the implementation of academic policies and regulations, academic scheduling, student records administration, transfer credit evaluation, transcript issuance, examinations, and student data reporting, in addition to graduation requirements. Also works in close collaboration with different colleges, departments, and other administrative units in the university to deliver high-quality work and services. With the university's vision in mind, our primary objective is to provide accountable, efficient, and professional services to all stakeholders. We are pleased that our department has achieved and maintained ISO 9001:2015 for its quality management system.

As part of our commitment to enhance the teaching and learning experience at RUW, we are always keen to improve our system and stay up-to-date. We worked last year with the ICT department and the system provider to upgrade the learning management system (MOODLE) to the latest version, and we are pleased to report that there have been significant improvements to the system and the user interface, where course navigation is much smoother, like the ability to move quickly between course sections and view completion status for activities easily, and there are more features that make the end user experience efficient and easy to use.

Please keep yourselves updated. I do encourage all the students to refer to the approved academic calendar for all important event dates throughout the academic year and to check the Student Handbook frequently to become familiar with RUW policies and procedures related to student life. I would also like to highlight that academic advising is important to your academic aspirations in university life. Each student at RUW is assigned to a faculty member for academic advising. If you have any questions about registration, study plans, choice of courses, schedules, examinations, or any other related academic matters, please seek an appointment with your advisor. Also, please make sure to follow the study plans and meet your academic advisors on a regular basis. Further, it's very important that RUW emails are accessed, read, and acted upon in a timely manner.

Once again, welcome to the RUW family, and I urge you to get involved both inside and outside of the classroom and make the most of all the resources available to you. We wish you a fruitful and successful experience at RUW and a bright future for all of you.

14. Academic Programmes and Degrees Offered at RUW

14.1. Centre for General Studies

The Centre for General Studies at RUW runs the English for Academic Success Programme and Liberal Arts Requirement (LAR) Programme.

14.1.1. Orientation Programme:

This Programme is a unique preparatory one-year programme, which is assured by Pearson UK and systematically develops the skills, knowledge and attitudes necessary for academic and personal success in subsequent undergraduate degree programmes at the University.

The programme takes a holistic approach to student learning focusing on developing relevant language and academic skills, as well as providing experiences that promote confidence, independence, and academic qualities. A commitment to life-long learning is achieved through the programme reflecting the beliefs of a 'learning community' that values autonomy, collaboration and the importance of continually learning throughout one's personal and professional life.

The programme results in high standards of English language in terms of the four macro skills. There is a strong emphasis on the English for Academic Purposes (EAP) and the students are equipped with the necessary skills to pursue their undergraduate studies. Applicants may join the Programme at any of the two intakes during the academic year. After taking an online placement test they are assigned to one of the two concurrently run levels based on their ability. Each level runs for one semester and consists of two different courses.

The Orientation Programme takes place on-Campus where students are expected to mix with their peers in other programmes and participate fully in all extra-curricular activities.

Success in the Programme demonstrates that a student has met the RUW English competency level required for admission to its degree programmes. Upon successful completion of the Programme, students will be awarded the Diploma in English for Academic Success assured by Pearson, UK.

The result of the placement test determines which of the two levels is appropriate for the applicant. The two levels available are:

a. EAS1 – English for Academic Success 1:

This level consists of two courses each focusing on two of the four macro skills (One receptive skill and one productive skill). Since the programme is holistic in nature with a communicative approach, the students have the opportunity to make use of knowledge gained to produce written and oral work, participate in class discussion, comprehend a variety of texts on familiar and rather unfamiliar topics and draw conclusions. Developing critical thinking skills is also an integral part of both courses.

Students with a Placement Test score equivalent to the IELTS Band score 3.0 or below will be assigned to this level.

b. EAS2 – English for Academic Success 2:

This level also consists of two courses each focusing on two of the four macro skills (One receptive skill and one productive skill). Since the programme is holistic in nature with a communicative approach, the students have the opportunity to make use of knowledge gained to produce written and oral work, analyse information on a variety of familiar and rather unfamiliar academic topics, and construct arguments. In addition, developing critical thinking skills is an integral part of both courses.

Students with a Placement Test score equivalent to the IELTS Band score of 3.5 to 5 will be assigned to this level.

The programme is designed to prepare students for entry to a degree programme taught in English.

Placement in English for Academic Success level 2 (EAS 2) allows students to register two Liberal Arts Requirement (LAR) courses (6 credit hours). EAS 2 students can select two courses from the following list:

1. LAR 101 – Arabic Language and Literature (3 credits).
2. LAR 121 – History of Bahrain (3 credits).
3. LAR 143 – Physical Education (3 credits).
4. LAR 113 – Mathematics (3 credits).

LAR 113 is compulsory for students enrolled in Business Programmes in CBL, CET students with average mark in Mathematics in Grade 12, below 60%.

EAS 2 students are not allowed to register any other Liberal Arts Requirement courses nor courses from their degree programme.

- viii. If you suspect the presence of a virus, shut the computer down and report to the instructor as quickly as possible.

Students bringing their personal laptops are required to have an operation antivirus software. Contact RUW ICT Department for virus scan (if needed) to avoid spread of viruses through file mishandling to other machines in the labs.

24.4.2. Computer Use Guidelines

Rationale

The following guidelines aims to ensure that all members of the academic community have adequate access to computers and information resources for these purposes and that they observe the legal and contractual requirements associated with the use of such resources. Computers, software and electronic resources are provided on campus to support learning and research, and not for purposes of entertainment or private business.

The guidelines also covers safe use of computer labs and other facilities on campus, to avoid the spread of viruses, inadvertent deletion of files or software and other misadventures that would hinder optimal use of the facilities by the academic community.

Description

The guidelines includes student, faculty and staff use of computers on campus, as well as use of RUW-licensed software and electronic resources accessed on campus or remotely.

The campus computers and RUW-licensed software and electronic resources are for the use of RUW students, faculty and staff only. Computers must be used responsibly, safely and ethically. Users may not

- ii. Copy licensed software from a campus computer onto a personal computer, or flash stick.
- iii. Share user account credentials with others.
- iv. Attempt to resolve by themselves any mechanical issues related to printer or computer breakdowns; equipment malfunctions must be reported to the class instructor or ICT personnel immediately

- vi. Save individual class work or personal files to a campus computer.
- vii. Students must provide their own flash memory for their own files and must save their work to removable media, such as CD-R or CD-RW, or flash memory sticks. Removable media must be checked for viruses by a designated person before they are used in any campus computer equipment.
- viii. Use personal laptops on campus without first having them an operational antivirus software.
- ix. Use a campus computer for any purpose that is illegal according to the laws of the Kingdom of Bahrain, e.g. 'hacking'.
- x. View, download, print or transmit any unlawful material deemed unacceptable according to the values and laws of the country.
- xi. Use any P2P software
- xii. Use a computer to invade the privacy of another person; to harass or threaten someone.
- xiii. Send unsolicited, non-academic messages such as chain letters or jokes to a list of recipients.
- xiv. Access another person's private files or e-mail without their permission.

Anyone can be a victim of sexual harassment, regardless of their gender and of the gender of the harasser. Sexual harassment may be physical, verbal, or non-verbal.

25. Academic Integrity Code

- i. Academic integrity is not merely a matter of conforming to rules; it must be understood in terms of the broader purposes of a university education.
- ii. The main purpose of a university is to encourage and facilitate the pursuit of knowledge and scholarship. The attainment of this purpose requires the individual integrity of all members of the university community.
- iii. The University states unequivocally that it demands scholarly integrity from all its members. Academic dishonesty, in whatever form, is ultimately destructive to the values of the University.
- iv. In submitting work in their courses, students should remember that plagiarism and cheating are considered to be very serious offences.
- v. Students who have any doubt as to what might be considered plagiarism in preparing an assignment should consult the following section on plagiarism and talk to their Instructors and academic advisor(s) to obtain appropriate guidelines.
- vi. The possession or use of unauthorized materials in any test or examination constitutes cheating.

- vii. The Student Handbook includes the Student Code of Conduct.
- viii. All members of the University community (students, faculty members, instructors, staff, invigilators) have the responsibility for the maintenance of an atmosphere of academic integrity in all phases of academic life, including research, teaching, learning, and administration.
- ix. Violating standards of academic conduct is a serious matter subject to disciplinary action.

Types of violations are listed and defined below. This section provides explanations and illustrations but does not exhaust the scope of these violations.

25.1. Plagiarism

Students are cautioned to include appropriate references and acknowledgement for the use of other people's material.

Plagiarism means using the ideas of another individual without giving them proper credit. The other individual may be a published author, critic, journalist, artist, composer, lecturer, tutor or even another student. Unintentional plagiarism can occur if you don't understand and use the acceptable scholarly methods of acknowledgement. In either case, the University will impose penalties, which can be very severe as per RUW Plagiarism Policy. The lecturer will inform the student in writing of all incidents of plagiarism. Copying books, sections or portions of books is prohibited by law. Please refer to the Disciplinary Policy Section for more details on Penalties and Procedures and the Regulations for Students Violation of Professional Conduct.

25.2. Intellectual Honesty

Intellectual honesty is accepted as the cornerstone of the development and acquisition of knowledge. Since knowledge is cumulative, further advances are predicated on the contributions of others.

In the normal course of scholarship these contributions are apprehended, critically evaluated, and utilized as a foundation for further inquiry. Intellectual honesty demands that the contribution of others be acknowledged. To do less is to cheat. To claim contributions and ideas of another as one's own is to deprive oneself the opportunity and challenge to learn and to participate in the scholarly process of acquisition and development of knowledge.

Therefore, the University insists on intellectual honesty in scholarship. The control of intellectual dishonesty begins with the individual's recognition of the standards of honesty expected and then his/her compliance with those expectations.

35.1. Educational Travel

Rationale

International travel and local field trips are integral parts of RUW's approach to teaching and learning. They enhance the curriculum in both formal and informal ways, and allow students to frame wider perspectives, apply and test theoretical concepts and gain practical knowledge and experience beyond the walls of the University. In addition to these educational benefits, travel enhances student life by providing opportunities for developing leadership and communication skills, appreciating the global context of this century, practicing the liberal arts values of our curricula and increasing the sense of personal responsibility for all participants.

Framework

RUW recognizes and endorses three (3) kinds of educational travel:

- i. Local field trips: organized in relation to a specific course or curriculum.

- ii. International Educational Travel: organized to facilitate or support college/ institutional curricular or educational goals and objectives.
- iii. Global Learning Courses: courses, conferences, workshops, seminars related to or part of a specific course or curriculum.

Note:

- Field trips that are part of the curriculum / course are mandatory and they are supported by the University and are approved by the Dean of College and supported by Director of Student Life.
- The Dean of College/ Director of Student Life and the Student Activities Officer will work to prepare a yearly plan and schedule of travel during the year.

Institutional Liability

- i. While RUW considers the safety of all its students, faculty and staff to be of paramount importance in organizing off-campus events, the University can accept no responsibility for unforeseen incidents.
- ii. Approved chaperones will accompany students on activities.
- iii. RUW will ensure that parents/guardians are aware of all activities their students are taking part in.
- iv. All parents will provide their consent (in general or specific terms) for their students' participation in these activities.
- v. All students will be expected to adhere to the RUW Student Code of Conduct during all external activities and will be asked to sign an undertaking prior to participation in any international programme.
- vi. For optional international excursions, student participants will normally be expected to be performing at an acceptable academic level before being invited to participate.
- vii. It is the responsibility of all student participants to ensure that they have international health insurance, Visa etc. RUW will facilitate the process of obtaining these.

35.2. Local Field trips within Bahrain

Procedures

Field Trips in Support of Specific Course(s), Curricula or Programmes:

- i. A rationale, itinerary and budget for such field trips must be approved by the Dean of College (or colleges if appropriate) at least 2 weeks prior to the event and provided to the Director of Student Life for information.
- ii. Transportation must be booked through the Dean of College.
- iii. The faculty member organizing the field trip will ensure that parental consent letters are issued to the parents/guardians of all students participating. The letter will indicate (at a minimum) the date and place of departure and arrival back on campus; destination; the course of which the trip is part of; the faculty member in charge of the trip and other pertinent details.
- iv. The faculty member organizing the field trip will ensure that an appropriate number of accompanying staff are available to support the excursion and will advise the Dean of College of the names; normally, there must be one faculty member for every 15 students. If more than 15 students are participating in the field trip, additional chaperones must accompany the group. When possible, the OSL will support these activities.
- v. Departure for field trips must be to and from the university only. The only exceptions to this will be those authorized in writing by parents/guardians.

35.3. Executive Leadership Team

It is recommended that for International Educational Travel for Students follow this procedure:

The University aims to take students on relevant international educational field trips. These trips are viewed as an enrichment activity on the basis of voluntary participation, though they are not mandatory. When these trips are organised by Colleges or the Director of Student Life:

- The Itinerary, including travel and hotel arrangements must be sent to College Council 3 months prior to the trip and obtain approval.
- The chaperones are selected based on the total number students.
- The proposal of trip is submitted to Dean's Council 2 month prior to departure for consideration/approval from the Executive Leadership Team (ELT) through DC.
- Faculty must submit a detailed report to their College Council upon returning from the trip highlighting the educational value and including a statement of expenses.
- Except in exceptional cases, these trips must be scheduled to occur during non-academic times.
- Parental consent forms are required for all participants embarking on international trips.
- Students must travel to and from the University as outlined in the permission letters. No other arrangements, other than those exceptionally arranged in advance by parents / guardians, are acceptable.

35.4. Global Learning Courses

These trips are part of the courses with global learning component. They are integral part of the courses and must be undertaken in order to meet the intended learning outcomes of the course.

- The Global Learning Course with travel plan should be a part of the College Academic Plan in the beginning of the academic year
- The itinerary, including academic content, must be finalised within the college in the beginning of the AY when this course is going to be offered, with necessary approvals through proper channel
- The travel must state a learning outcome relevant to a course, series of courses or programme.
- The chaperones are selected based on their relationship to the academic purposes of the travel.
- The Global Learning course should be advertised effectively for the student's awareness and participation.
- The students attending the trip produce written journal entries daily and attend a daily debriefing by the faculty member.
- The students are required to complete a questionnaire evaluating the experience prior to departure from the venue. Faculty members must submit a detailed report to their College Council upon returning from the trip highlighting the educational value and including a statement of expenses.

35.5. Chaperones

- i. RUW endeavours to provide one (1) adult chaperone for every 10 students to ensure a safe and rewarding experience during an international trip. For trips with 11-20 students, two chaperones will accompany. For more than 21 students the number of chaperones will be considered on a case by case basis.
- ii. Chaperones must be over 18 years of age and not currently attending the University as students.

- iii. Parents and female relatives of the students may be appointed as chaperones by the Director of Student Life; in which case they will be provided with an outline of expectations and trained by the Director of Student Life.
- iv. Chaperones accompanying students are expected to provide constant supervision.
- v. Supervision includes transit, visit and leisure time, and requires the preparation of a careful schedule of responsibilities to ensure presence at restaurants, hotels/ hostels etc.
- vi. For all types of educational trips, (whether local or international) a consent letter is issued to each participant for signature by their guardian.
- vii. Students are also required to sign a Student Undertaking with the Director of Student Life/ College.
